Imaging Sciences offers a unique design service. Clients generally have at least basic goals for a space and usually have some concept of what they want. We can help refine those ideas and bring knowledge of glass, light, light transmission, color, special looks, etc. to the decision making. We can also provide images of glass and / or installations to help make the right choices. We make custom samples to really zero in on the perfect product. Finally, we can help with the file preparation to get ready for imaging, with the required panel match, editing the image to account for structure, etc. Depending on the scope of the project, we may or may not quote a modest fee for these services.
